Professional Summary

Motivated and detail-oriented bilingual professional transitioning into front-end web development, with hands-on experience building responsive websites using HTML, CSS, and GitHub. Backed by a foundation in Finance and Accounting, I bring proven strengths in data accuracy, documentation, and cross-cultural communication. Currently completing the Can Code Web Development Bootcamp, where I’m developing real-world projects and sharpening my skills in layout, design, and version control. Passionate about clean code, creative problem-solving, and continuous learning. Open to full-time, part-time, or contract remote opportunities where I can grow, contribute, and make a positive impact.
